➤ Namsan Hanok Village

A folk village located in the middle of the city, more specifically, in the area called Pil-dong, at the foot of the northern part of Namsan. First opened to the public in 1997 after four-years of construction, the village has five authentic old Korean Hanoks that have been transported from other parts of the country and restored to perfection with traditional gardens, pavilions, and ponds. The village is also available for wedding ceremonies, which take place two or three times a week. Visitors can also view and purchase traditional ceramic arts and crafts in the exhibition hall.

➤ Seoul Tower

Seoul Tower, which stands on the Mt. Namsan`s summit, is one of the highest towers(240m) in the world. The panoramic view of Seoul seen from the 2nd and 3rd observation floors and the revolving observation platform on the 5th floor are especially excellent.
